Patience and Grace

By Ron Graham

When you think about “patience” what is the first thing that comes into your mind? Is it some circumstance in which patience is a problem for you?

Most people have a problem with patience, either in showing it themselves or being shown it by others. However, if we would truly understand patience, we must first think about the patience and longsuffering of God. This is the pattern for all true patience.

In this lesson, we look at the patience and grace of God through Christ, so that we may understand patience at its foundation level.

Patience goes hand in hand with kindness. The patience of God stems from God's kindness — his grace.

In this lesson we will keep in mind that God is longsuffering toward us because he wants to be merciful toward us, and to save us from his wrath.
