Paul’s Troubles in Jerusalem and Caesarea

Between the third missionary journey and the journey to Rome, Paul is in Jerusalem and Caesarea. It is a troubled time for him.

In Jerusalem Paul had a meeting with James and the elders (Acts 21:18-26).

Paul was caused trouble by the Jews (Acts 21:27-40).

Paul told his story publicly and nearly got flogged (Acts 28).

He went on trial and was escorted to Caesarea (Acts 23:1-35).

He was imprisoned in Caesarea and went before Felix (Acts 24).

When he appeared before Festus he appealed to Caesar (Acts 25).

Paul next appeared before Agrippa (Acts 26).

After that, he begins the voyage to Italy (Acts 27:1-2).

Paul’s Journeys (3)

By Ron Graham

This is our third study on the journeys of Paul., and we look at Paul's third missionary journey (Acts 18:23 to 21:17).

Between his second and third journeys, Paul spent some time working with the church in Syrian Antioch (Acts 18:22-23).

After that, Paul set off on the third journey.

Stages of the third journey

1. First he visited with the churches again in Galatia and Phrygia (Acts 18:23).

3. Paul then revisited Macedonia and Greece, afterward going to Troas and then to Miletus (Acts 20:1-38).

4. From Miletus Paul sailed to Caesarea and then went to Jerusalem (Acts 21:1-17).
